THE CREST

Volume IV
1965

Presented by

The Crest Staff
Crestview High School
Columbiana, Ohio

This yearbook is about all students of Fairfield-Waterford. For all are in common, all are the same, all are striving to work, to learn, to give. For the Seniors this is good-bye; for the underclassmen, the Junior High, and the elementary, this is the future.

Administration Leads the Way

"As you read this annual again and again over the years, may it remind you of the many happy memories of your school days in the Fairfield-Waterford School District.

May it also remind you of your duties as an adult to support and take an interest in your schools no matter where you may be.

Our government and our free and productive society cannot continue to endure if a substantial proportion of our citizens are ignorant, with spirit, mind, and body undeveloped."

Joe W. Driscoll

Mr. David Habegar
Crestview Principal

"If knowledge is power and power is the basis of work, then you as a 1965 graduate must never cease in your quest of knowledge. Only through vocational satisfaction are you able to achieve personal satisfaction. Use your skills wisely, always seeking improvement, and happiness will be your companion."

Mr. Robert Carter
Fairfield Principal

"A Swiss philosopher once said, 'Every life is a profession on faith.' Every man's conduct is an unspoken sermon that is forever preaching to others. We do not learn values by words and definitions of words. We learn habits, attitudes, and standards of judgment through our relationship with our fellow men.

Each man is a model for others. Your life is a profession on faith not only to yourself but to every other human being.

It is important how you live, and what you accomplish, important to you, and important to mankind."

Mrs. Ruth Miller
New Waterford Principal

"To those who have been given much, much is expected. You are greatly endowed; go into the world and use your gifts for the betterment of mankind."

THE SCHOOL BOARD

Our board is composed of a group of conscientious citizens, dedicated to the district, who want the best for its students.

The purpose of the Board of Education is to determine the policies of our school district, and, in an effort to better understand the needs and problems of our district, the board members met with the kindergarten, elementary, junior high, and senior high school teachers to discuss how the curriculum could be enriched. According to county superintendent of schools, J. L. McBride, this is the first time that this has ever been done in any Columbiana County School.

Teachers Work With Students Toward Learning

Mr. Weber, Mr. Grekis, Mrs. Seachrist, Mr. Dinello, Mrs. Hart

Our teachers are our friends, critics, confidants, and, it sometimes seems, slave-drivers; but, above all, they are people who are truly concerned with others. Although it may sometimes seem that their words go unheeded, that what they attempt to teach is never learned, we want them to realize that our high school years are invaluable ones only because of their patience, their understanding, their guidance.

We regret that Mrs. Lillian Powell, who, because of injuries sustained in an auto accident, was unable to continue teaching, is not pictured in the faculty section. Her students appreciated the discipline she required from them and her ability to help them see literature in different ways. We hope that she has a complete recovery and will soon return to teaching.

Crestview Graduates Charter Class

Tom Crook, Treasurer; Darryl Jones, Vice President; Gary Wilhelm, Business Manager; Linda Bacon, Secretary; Chuck Jones, President.

This year's seniors have the special honor of being the first class to go all four years to C.H.S. Entering with starry eyes they leave with confidence, happiness, and a touch of misty sadness. They have learned and shared much. They have taken advantage of the opportunities placed before them and they have, in return, given of themselves.

The seniors will have much to remember of their years at C.H.S. Basketball dances as freshmen, selling just one more sweat shirt as sophomores, happy hours working on the prom as juniors, and producing an annual as seniors. These are the big things, yet they will share a place with the little in the hearts of all of them.

Juniors Choose Rings, Prepare for Prom

Business Manager—Bill McQuiston Treasurer—Bill Kress Vice President—Donna Sargent Secretary—Vicki Bable President—Ellen Carter

The juniors chose Rebel blue and white as their class colors, a red rose as their flower, and their motto is, "Not merely to exist but to amount to something in life."

They also sold concessions in the multi-purpose room to raise money for the Prom and held two bake sales. Although preparation for the Prom occupies most of the juniors' time, they also ordered their class rings and presented a three act play entitled "Onions in the Stew".

Kathy Tucker—Treasurer, Sally Lindsay—Secretary, Rich Caldwell—Vice President, Jack McCoy—President.

Blue and white are the sophomore class colors; a blue-tinted rose, their flower. Their motto, "Bravely, faithfully, perhaps successfully," fits them well, this year since they were the class to win the newly ordained "School Spirit Award."

They also had a very profitable and successful idea. Instead of selling sweatshirts in the traditional colors of black and gold, the class of '67 offered them in maroon and white, senior class colors, and in navy blue and white.

The freshmen selected violet and white for their class colors, the violet as their class flower, and chose as their motto, "Not for one's self, but for one's people."

Although the efforts of the freshmen to make money by sponsoring dances after the basketball games was not too successful, they did earn a great deal of money at their February bake sale. However, their most popular money-making effort was the apple machine. Fresh apples are now available to everyone during the noon period and after school.

Activities Broaden Students' Personalities

Couples dancing at the Prom.

Students at Crestview develop socially as well as mentally due to their participation in the numerous extra-curricular activities. A few of these activities, are dances, plays, a mock election, and class day. From these events the students learn cooperation, responsibility, leadership, and above all they have a good time.

Activities also add variety to the every day school routine. They bring out the students' hidden talents; and develop their personalities.

Juniors Present "Onions in the Stew"

On Nov. 21, 1964, the Junior Class Play was presented at Crestview High School. This was a delightful and different comedy about the MacDonald family and the problems they encountered when they decided to leave the hub-bub of Seattle life and move to an island off the coast. Their main problem was that Mom was the only member of the family that was enthusiastic about the move and this led to hilarious complications.

Moving in is just the beginning of problems yet to come.

Senior Play: "Seventeenth Summer"

On April 10, 1965, the Senior Class presented their play in the multi-purpose room. "Seventeenth Summer" was a heartwarming story about a typical family from a small midwestern town. It was centered around Angie, their teenage daughter who was preparing for college, and her three sisters. The dawn of summer brought Angie her first love and, as fall approached, maturity.

With her usual deviltry, ten year old Kitty keeps the household in an uproar.

As they leave for the country club dance, Art and Margaret greet Jack, who has come to escort Angie.

Tony Altomare, representing Lyndon Johnson, gives his view of the political issues while other panelists Gary Wilhelm, Larry Hawkins, Darryl Jones, Diane Patton, Jackie Yacher, Mike Altomare, and Patti Wollam take notes in preparation for rebuttal.

Seniors Find Government Can Be Fun!

The Senior Government Classes held a mock election on November 2, 1964. This election was carried out as close to a real election as possible with students voting for all the candidates that were running for offices in this area. This also included voting for the Presidential candidate, the Bond Issue, and the Operating Levy.

Behind every election there was campaigning. Tony Altomare, represented President Johnson, and Mike Altomare, represented Senator Hubert Humphrey. Melvin Mercer, campaign manager, with the help of Johnson girls, distributed LBJ pamphlets, stickers, and buttons. Meanwhile speechwriters from the third period class organized information in preparation for the rally.

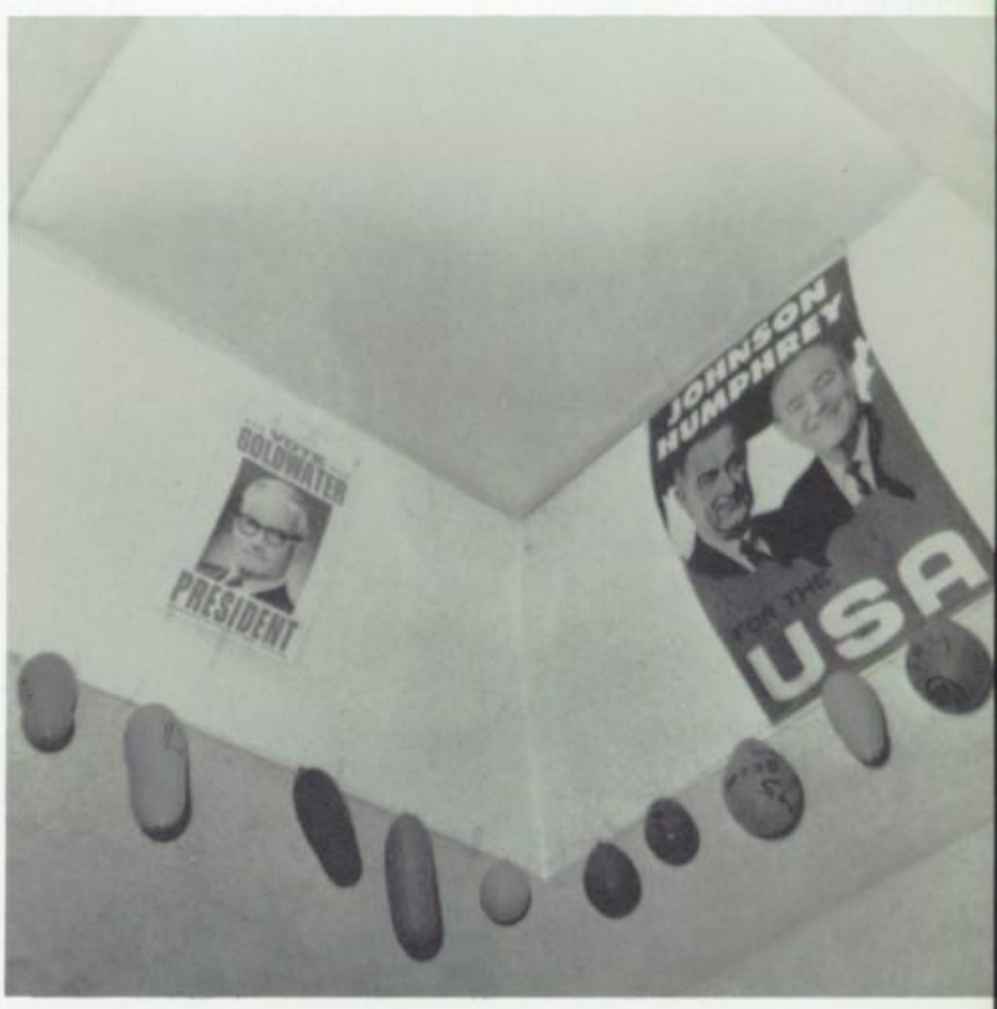
Larry Hawkins, as Senator Goldwater, and Gary Wilhelm as Representative William Miller devised political strategy. Campaign manager, Elaine Long, surprised the Democrats with an unforeseen move. She organized a marching Goldwater-Miller band to parade through the school at noon period. Larry and Gary were explaining the Goldwater philosophy to anyone who would listen.

On October 28, 1964, a political rally was held in the multi-purpose room. All the candidates and their managers gave speeches. The campaign intensified posters and banners were hung all over the halls, even in the restrooms; every morning and afternoon political messages came over the intercom.

Finally, the big day came, it was time to vote. Each of us received our ballots. We entered the booth and voted for the man we believed was right for the important job of being President of our great country.

Lyndon B. Johnson received 196 votes. Barry Goldwater received 76.

Our thanks to Mr. Urbschat, Senior Social teacher, for his time and help in this our first view of political campaigns in action.



After the third period government class placed an LBJ sign next to the skylight, the eighth period class retaliated with a Goldwater poster and "Barry" balloons.

Sports: the Spirit of Competition

The spirit of Crestview is made evident by active participation of the students in sports activities. The challenge is made to every student; many accept and use their talents to make a good name for Crestview in the sports world.

Football, basketball, track, golf and the girl's G.A.A. are major fields in which to participate.

In our school district we have always been backed by enthusiastic adult boosters. Without their many projects, time, and effort, we could not have had our newly erected sound tower on the football field, the football bleachers and scoreboard, or the rebounder for the basketball teams. Future plans include lights for the football field.

It takes a combination of physical strength, a sense of fair play, interested adults, loyal fans, and good coaching to make any athletic program competitive and successful. Crestview has this combination.

A Few Bright Moments Spark Rebel's Season

In spite of a losing season, the Rebels displayed fine spirit and good sportsmanship. Injuries hampered this year's squad resulting in eight of eighteen lettermen being unable to participate in at least one game. Coach Habeger stated that although he thought the Rebels played their best game against Southern Local, he was proudest of the Lowellville game.

On March 4, 1965, the Rebels traveled to Struthers Field House to battle the Lisbon Blue Devils for an opportunity to win the Northeastern Ohio Sectional Trophy. Here, as in the Atwater and Lordstown games, the Rebel quintet was trailing in double figures at the half. The Crestview cagers displayed their ability as a come-back ball club by bouncing up in the fourth quarter to win by two points.

Then against Southern Local on March 6, 1965, the Rebs won by fourteen points, gaining a sweet victory and avenging their earlier loss to the Indians. For the second time in Crestview's history, the black and gold hoopsters brought home the NEOS trophy.

Later at Canton, Ohio, on March 9, 1965, the Rebels met defeat. After a good fight, the Fairport Harbor Skippers handed the Crestview men their final five point loss; the score was 66-61.

Through the Student Council, each student have a voice in the rules and activities of his school. The Student Council is democracy at work in the school. It provides better citizens for democracy in the world. Used to its fullest, it is a government, of the students, by the students, for the students.

The ability to associate successfully with the people around us is one of the important functions of the organizations at Crestview. In these organizations people with the same interests gather together and exchange ideas. By sharing and combining ideas and opinions, the students in these clubs broaden their outlooks.

National Honor Society Becomes Active

On December 16, 1964, the National Honor Society held their annual induction. After the welcome and history were given by Mr. Driscoll and Mrs. Hoffman, each member read a summary of the inductee's qualifications and then announced his identity. Three seniors and six juniors were inducted. The induction was held early to give the new members an opportunity to participate in making the NHS an active organization.

To give scholarship more recognition than it had been receiving, the members had golden tassels bought for the ten seniors with the highest scholastic averages to wear at graduation. They also sold Easter candy. Besides using the profits to make the organization independent, they plan to present a scholarship to a deserving senior.

Annual Staff Edits '65 Crest

Many hours are spent by persistent seniors in preparing a worthy account in pictures of the students in the district. This year the staff has made changes they hope will improve this, the fourth volume of the Crest.

Without you this annual would never have been possible. For it is through you that it is told, through your activities, through your studies, and through your contributions to the world around you.

Spanish Club Celebrates Christmas, Spanish Style

At Christmas time the Spanish Club had a party but in Spanish custom. They made a bird-like pinata filled with goodies, in which someone tried to break it with a stick, blindfolded. They played Spanish games and sang Spanish songs the rest of the evening. To make money the club sold gold C.H.S. pins.

Latin Club Tours Buhl Planetarium

On March 20, 1965, the Latin Club took a bus to the Pittsburgh Buhl Planetarium. They enjoyed viewing the "sky show" and Latin and Science exhibits on display throughout the building. As usual the traditional Slave Auction was held in October and all Freshman Latin students were sold as slaves.

Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Stress

Intergroup Activities

Very active this year, the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs held the first induction ceremony of new members. For the first time basketball and bowling teams were organized to compete with other schools. Making and selling hardtack candy enabled the clubs to spend three days at Camp Fitch near Conneaut, Ohio. Civic Day was April 5, 1965, in which Hi-Y members from all over the county went to various types of businesses and administrations for instruction. It was very worthwhile in giving young people looks into interesting fields of work.

Nurses Club Enjoys Mother-Daughter Banquet

In November the Nurses Club organized a Mother-Daughter Banquet at Crestview. A pleasant dinner and a very good guest speaker made it a joyful affair. A field trip to Cleveland for a tour of a Veterans' Hospital was planned in April. At Easter time the members made Easter baskets and distributed them to underprivileged children in the community.

Pep Club Builds School Spirit!

Pres. Pat Wollam and V. Pres. Vicki Bable made it possible for Crestview students to follow the Rebel team during basketball and football season by chartering buses to most of the games. The Pep Band helped boost spirit at the afternoon pep-rallies. Rebel pillows and big mum corsages were sold this year to help fill the treasury.

Chorus Officers Stimulate New Activities

STANDING: Terry Vollnogle, Linda Johnson, Bonnie Bowman, Teresa Strouse, Melvin Mercer, Linda McCoy, Keith Baker. SITTING: Rick Dicken, Mike Altomare.

Although this is the first year that chorus officers have been elected, they have sponsored several car washes at the New Waterford Garage and Theron's Country Store and a dance featuring the Impacts at Crestview. With the raised funds they are planning to purchase choir robes, gold stoles, and music folders. The Fairfield-Waterford Music Boosters have encouraged the chorus by donating 25 stoles.

The chorus and glee clubs traditionally sing at the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter assemblies, and baccalaureate. They also presented a Christmas program for the P.T.O. where the moving lyric, "Do You Hear What I Hear?", was a favorite of all.

Besides the chorus and the glee clubs, representatives from the sixth, seventh, and eighth grade choruses sang at the Spring Concert. Mrs. Wilhelm felt that "Blessed Be God" was a thrilling number, marvelously sung.

Nearly fifty per cent of our chorus participated in County Chorus, held at East Liverpool on February 26. From the entire county, only one soloist, Crestview's Mary Lou Boies, was selected to sing "Brahm's Lullaby" in German.

The ensembles and glee clubs had only one ten minute, weekly period of supervised instruction. Mrs. Wilhelm commented with pride on their initiative and exceptionally good progress.

Marching Band Entertains

During Half-time Ceremonies

Under the direction of Andrew Domenick, the marching band performed at Crestview football games. Each week they featured a popular tune such as the "Theme from Exodus," the "Theme from Bonanza," or, the band's favorite, the "Theme from Hennessey". Head majorette, Diane Patton, often used these as background for the majorettes' performance of her original routines.

Diane Patton, senior, has led the marching band for two consecutive years.

Band Buys New Uniforms

After the football season the band settled down to work on some good concert selections. The first performance of the concert band was at the P.T.O. Christmas program, where they presented many popular Christmas carols and traditional Christmas songs. The highlight of the evening was "The Christmas Story," the story of the first Christmas, presented by the band and chorus with narration by Mrs. Gray.

The concert band next performed at the annual Spring Concert, with the chorus on April 30, 1965. The large crowd was given a sneak preview of the new band uniforms. These gold blazers and dark trousers will be a welcome addition to the marching band as well as the concert band. Although the Music Boosters assisted in the purchase, the band earned money for the uniforms by selling candy.

'64-'65 line majorettes are Virginia Converse, Patty Wollam, Karen Rupert, and Linda Bartholow.

Band Reaches Goal

After four years of waiting, planning, and working, the Rebel band now has their new uniforms. These unique uniforms are the first of their type in this area. These uniforms with a few accessory changes will also be used for the concert band. The Rebel band will be active throughout the summer marching in all local parades.

Karen Cook, Mark Wilhelm, Chip McConnville, Karen Sargent, Joyce Grossen.
STANDING are: Judy Converse, Terry Hawkins, Becky George, Jerry Snyder, Kenny Robb, Gary Hubbard.

Just as high school students are prepared for college, junior high students are prepared for high school. They are introduced to changing classes, having a variety of teachers, and inter-scholastic activities, such as football, basketball and dances.

Another important part of junior high life is the beginning of a student council. From this the students first learn the rules of self-government.

"Junior Rebs" Develop as the Season Progresses to End With a 4-2 Record

The "Junior Rebs" began the 1964 season playing poorly because of little experience; however, under Dave Julian, Fairfield's new head football coach, and with the encouragement of assistant coach Larry Webber, they gained experience and their ability improved. According to Coach Julian, their gradual development was most noticeable in their downfield blocking. He felt that although the "Junior Rebs" lost, their performance during the last half of the Lowellville game was the best of the season. "They play good ball for eighth graders; but they have a lot to learn," commented the coach.

Junior High Cagers Faced Tough Schedule

Although the eighth grade record with four won and eight lost seemed quite poor, seven of the eight games that were lost were by a total of forty-nine points.

Outclassed only once during the year the eighth grade team stands ready to avenge these defeats as freshman basketeers.

The seventh graders ended up on the winning side of the ledger during the season and with considerable height, speed, and the year's experience, should do even better next year.

In the County Junior High Tournament, the seventh graders lost in an upset to United, 28 to 21 after having beaten them twice during the year. The eighth graders lost for the second time to Beaver Local, 37 to 23.

Advertisers Help Finance Yearbook

Advertising Manager, Gary Wilhelm, Patty Wollam, Tim Palmer, Tom Chamberlain.

ADS, ADS, ADS—so many ads that one doesn't know what to do—work and worries, much work and many worries—time goes slowly at first, then faster—the money for ads comes in—yes, it would be impossible to produce the CREST without that money—there are a lot of ads this year—that's good—it also makes for more work—must hurry—go faster—will these things ever be finished?—the last pages are ready—now it's done—made possible by the area businesses—MANY THANKS TO THEM!

Youth and the World

"There is many a battle that's yet to be won,
There is many a glorious deed to be done.
The world is still young! For the youth at its door
There are tasks some shall do, never dreamed of before.
It is not an old world, worn and wrinkled and gray,
It's a world that is being reborn every day!
